Per: Hélène Boudreau-Laforge, CCR
because we got a phone call telling us not to bring them to shore.

THE CHAIRPERSON: Thank you.

Mr. BRUCE TITUS: Thank you very much.

THE CHAIRPERSON: Any questions additionally. If not, we've been at this for two hours and 15 minutes, we're only halfway done this evening, so we're going to stop for five minutes, stretch your legs and then we'll start up again, okay?

--- Recess at 8:15 p.m.

--- Upon resuming at 8:22 p.m.

THE CHAIRPERSON: Ladies and gentlemen, please. Can we get back? Please. Okay. The meeting will come back to order.

The next presenters for this evening's meeting are Brian and Andrea Meeson.

PRESENTATION BY BRIAN AND ANDREA MEESON

Ms. ANDREA MEESON: Good evening, my name is Andrea Meeson; A-n-d-r-e-a; M-e-e-s-o-n.

Mr. BRIAN MEESON: And I am Brian Meeson, with an "i", and the surname spelled the same way.

Ms. ANDREA MEESON: We are one of the many sustainable resources of Digby Neck, people who came as tourists and stayed as annual returnees.

We are here as witnesses to a form of tourism which does not feature in the yearly ups and downs of the in by 5:00 and out by 9:00 motoring trade.

We may be characterized as non-residents, but like offshore capital, we have invested in the Province. Collectively, our contribution, and we include many others like us, has been significant to the economy of Digby County and to Nova Scotia.

We are examples of sustainable development. We don't cruise by in SUVs and buses, never to return. We are here three to four months. Over 40 years, we have averaged 10 weeks per year, every year. By the way, we live in Sandy Cove.

It's difficult to develop being an acquaintance a passing visitor. The Digby Neck and Islands however has been the basis for significant sustained human development, generation after generation.

We feel that the Proponent's environmental impact statement underrates the human component, and particularly avoids that aspects of which we are part.

We live much of the year in Toronto, a city characterized by the worship of concrete.

There, we have fought successfully in the downtown to preserve aspects of the wilderness, but despite the considerable greenery, the average temperature
