Hello Randy

Our project is not cancelled but is delayed and you are right, "The Financial Meltdown" Anyway I guess it would be prudent not to post the follow up until we begin. What were the locals saying?

Robert

Good Morning Robert,

How are things going? I'm still busy here at Transport Canada but there has been a decline in large projects within the last 6 months. I was down in Belleoram last week conducting some compliance monitoring on aquaculture sites and noticed the access road into the quarry site. I was just wondering if this project is still active or has it been delayed or cancelled given the financial outlook in the US. We have drafted a Follow-up Program but I'd rather not post it on CEAR until you decided to start construction. I wouldn't want to have to amend the follow-up dates later to reflect a delay, its just easier to wait.

Anyhow, it would be much appreciated if you could provide a brief update on the project.

Thanks,
Randy

Hello Randy

I guess I would be only wasting my time asking if there was any news on the Comp Study.....
